@kriceSD57 Ok - just like USA only no Mayflower or Squanto! #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:06 | MrsMorgansClass

08-Oct-11 00:06 | jmsalsich

@MrsMorgansClass wow I would love to hear more about how you structure this #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:08 | chicteach

...ignore and carry on (doesn't break our stamina anymore) or we would have never gotten very far #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:08 | soingirl

Barometer kids disrupt others and are usually the ones who cause the session to stop. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:09 | MrsMorgansClass

@soingirl glad tto hear I think I will try this next week #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:10 | chicteach

@chicteach <http://t.co/GEKICPni> #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:10 | MrsMorgansClass

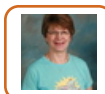

If the behaviors are attention seeking, a few practice minutes at recess usually takes care of it. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:10 | lorilovesbooks

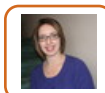

My main barometer child now has Listen to reading as last #daily5 choice as it's his favourite, has to pretty much earn it

08-Oct-11 00:10 | judykmck

If it's an ADD type issue, they need some tools and interventions to help them build stamina. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:10 | lorilovesbooks

#Daily5 @gailandjoan have a great video clip on their members site showing modifications for a special needs barometer child

08-Oct-11 00:11 | PrincipalJ

Barometer kids don't want to break the stamina but need support to maintain it #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:11 | valruckes

@soingirl good advice. Sometimes they want to be the reason to stop. I either ignore, place them at their desk, or work with them. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:12 | valruckes

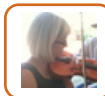

When kids listen to reading are they also following along? #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:13 | ncarroll24

@valruckes Yes! and lot's of positive encouragement! They get enough negative feedback from their peers. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:13 | MrsMorgansClass

@soingirl @MrsMorgansClass I will- I know it's going to be a fun time with her! Now for a few more hrs drive #daily5 archive

08-Oct-11 00:13 | literacygurl

Some kids while reading need a stress ball etc in the other hand or under the feet #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:13 | wilson_lisa

I have worked a lot with him on choosing a goo spot, which for him is where he won't distract others #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:14 | soingirl

Since I know who my barometers are, I try to pull their groups or do individual conferences 2nd or 3rd when stamina runs out #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:14 | becky7274

My main barometer child is a struggling reader and attention seeker. Good fit books make all the difference, but his are so short. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:14 | jmsalsich

@soingirl That's a tough one. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:14 | MrsMorgansClass

@soingirl @lorilovesbooks I have a great little guy like that too this year he is pulled out for reading 1/2 through workshop time #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:14 | chichteach

Found that whisper phones can work with the kid who has to talk. #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:15 | wilson_lisa

@soingirl How long can he go 4? Maybe u let him go till stamina breaks, then confer w/ him. He probably needs more instruction anyway. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:15 | lorilovesbooks

Part of the training that happen seems to be the others moving away from those with lower stamina #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:15 | becky7274

@lorilovesbooks That is one of the strategies I have been using, pulling them to confer or in a group...breaks it up for them #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:15 | soingirl

My boy also settles better now that he knows he can read to self into the ipod if he wants #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:16 | judykmck

@soingirl Yep. Seems like a good idea for them. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:16 | lorilovesbooks

I made a pact w/mine last year that after he maintained stamina during R to S he could have a few minutes reading with me during #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:16 | valruckes

@Komos72 Gail and Joan have added "Build Bathroom Stamina" to their I chart. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | lorilovesbooks

@lorilovesbooks That's how I have been handling it. Read to Self, Words and Listen are the best for him, writing is challenging #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | soingirl

@KathrynTrask Plumbers pipes - the bendy bits! They echo into your ear just nicely #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | judykmck

@jmsalsich My one child (4th grade on 1st/2nd rdg level) takes no less than 6 books with him. And we are REALLY working on rereading #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | becky7274

@KathrynTrask whisper phones are like mini telephones. Made mine from pvc pipe. Child talks to themselves #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | wilson_lisa

RT @chicteach: I also use exercise balls, wobble seats and other sensory integration even gum to help with focus and attention #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | soingirl

This year, I'm finding it's bathroom "emergencies" that break down our flow. Any ideas? This happen to anyone else? #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | Komos72

@lorilovesbooks @Komos72 OMG Love that why do they always need to go to the bathroom? #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | chicteach

@jmsalsich My struggling readers take extra books, just for that reason. Plus, we talk a lot about rereading! #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:17 | Komos72

@judykmck I have about 3 who struggle...their smart spots are near me until they build up the stamina to be on their own. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:27 | webbscheers

@MrsMorgansClass Me too...adults can come into the room to talk to me and most don't even look, some don't know they came in lol #Daily5

08-Oct-11 00:27 | soingirl

So it sounds like it would be a good idea to build strategies with class for dealing with distractors. #daily5

08-Oct-11 00:27 | KathrynTrask

RT @soingirl: Noticing the kids doing a good job of giving nonverb cues to those who are getting off task & doing great job ignoring #Daily5
